Are you interested in learning about how the Grid works?

[1]

Tuesday, 22 October, 2013

Maria Alandes Pradillo (Grid Information System expert) and Andrzej Nowak (CERN openlab CTO Office) explain in plain words the operations and the infrastructure at CERN in this video [2] posted by Computerphile [3].

If you are interested in learning more on how CERN handles the vast amounts of data generated by the LHC and the experiments' detectors, we recommend you to watch this 5-minute video [4]. Do not miss to learn more about CERN computing though; this video [5] covers the History of computing at CERN, the role of the IT department, as well as the Data Centre and the challenges it faces.
